Opinion

Nutrition is very important requirement of an individual for maintaining normal levels of health. Adequate nutrition helps in performing daily living activities and also in keeping each organ of body in good working condition. For keeping the body healthy, proper amount of diet is to be taken by the individual and the diet should be rich in all essential nutrients required by the body i.e. a balanced diet is very much important for healthy body mechanism. The balanced diet helps in:

1. Prevention of diseases.
2. Promotion of health.
3. Fighting diseases.
4. Treating and curing disease.

Balanced diet is essential requirement of maintaining health, like:

1. Inadequate amount of diet

Diet lacking certain nutrients.

Nutritional deficiency disease like

Protein energy mal-nutrition.

2. High diet intake

High calorie diet intake.

Leads to obesity and coronary artery disease.

If we talk about diet, it should contain each nutrient i.e. Macro or Micro nutrient in a balanced quantity.
